CIRCULAR TO NATIONAL BANKS ABOUT THE Four Per Cents. - Secretary Sherman yester day issued the following:

"By virtue of the authority conferred by section 5153, Revised Statutes of the United States, the Secretary of the Treasury will designate as a depository of public moneys any national bank that will comply with the terms and conditions of this circular letter. Under such designation the bank will be entitled to receive only deposits in coin on account of the four per cent. bonds sold under the popular subscription invited by the circular of this department of date of the 16th instant. The bonds subscribed for will be issued upon the receipt of a proper certificate from the bank, stating that the coin has been deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States, but they will be held by the department as security until other United States bonds of an equal amount are substituted in their stead, or the coin deposited has been paid upon Treasury drafts. The proper blank certificates will be furnished to the banks, from time to time, as needed. Banks desiring the authority conferred by this circular in advance of subscripture. tions may deposit United States bonds with the Treasury of the United States as security for deposits to be ofterwards made, and certificates of deposit in proper form, and for the amount of bonds so deposited, will be furnished to the bank for execution. The regular transcript blanks for the Treasurer's general account will be used in reporting deposits made on account of this loan, and will be furnished, on demand, to any national bank becoming a depository under this order." AN OLD KENTUCKY DUEL. - A duel was fought at Soap Island, in Bridgeport, in 1836. The participants were Shelton and Kingsbury. Shelton thought it to be real; Kingsbury knew it to be a joke. The guns were loaded with soft soap. Shelton won the first fire, banged away and dropped behind a log. Kingsbury walked up, put the muzzle of the gun against the head of Shelton and pulled the trigger. Such a Jooking man was never seen. Soft soap covered his head entirely. In the agony of despair Shelton reached up, got a handful of the soap and exclaimed:—"Oh, my poor brains! my poor brains!" Realizing the hoax, he sprang up and chased Kingsbury of the Island with rocks, swearing all the while like a sailor. Shelton afterward enlisted in Sam. Houston's war. War centum of the pur-Comirmoney to be paid in cash, and the residue in three equal annual payment from the day of splenting back from Texas, he passed through Hardinsville with his gun on his shoulder. One of his old friends cried out "Halt!" He did so. "Present arms!" He presented. "Make ready!" He did so. "Take aim!"

He aimed. "Fire!" He wheeled, fired right at the fellow, the bullet just missed his head, went through the door and dropped on the floor inside. Shelton took to his heels. In the civil war he made a brave soldier; was unflinching in his attention to duty, and died like a soldier at Missionary Ridge. - Frankfort Commonwealth. GRANT'S EUROPEAN SOUVENIRS.-A package containing the presents so far received by General Grant during his European trip passed through the Custom House on Sainted of the two gold boxes presented by the otties of the two gold boxes presented Glasgow and Ayr, and the silver box presented by the city of Edinburgh, each containing the freedom of these places. The boxes are about eight inches long by five inches wide and three inches deep, and handsomely engraved with emblematic devices. Gold, silver and bronze medals were also in the package, together with the addresses of congratulation made at various points on the General's journey. These ad dresses, especially those from workingmen, are beautifully illuminated and bound, most of the binding consisting of valuable woods, probably designed to be specimens of the country. There were also a number of badges and decorations which had been used by participants in the processions that greeted the General during his tour. - Phila. Record.

One word about Washington. Another and better atmosphere pervades it since Grant went out and Hayes came in. One feels, and can Pride of Virginia, Hiawatha and other brands at factory prices. Always keeps a large stock in store. Call and see him, at No. 71 King st., before you buy elsewhere.

out and Hayes came in. One leels, and can but feel, that it is now as much—I am tempted to say more—the capital of the Southern than of the Northern man. One is at ease, at home? of the Northern man. One is at case, at home; without fear, and, despite himself, finds that the asperities of years must needs pass away in this new atmosphere. It is a great and blessed change; nor is it hard to realize that in a few years, little as we deemed it possible in Grant's time, pride in the Republic and even love of our common country will rule in Southera hearts as never before in our history. It is much for me to say this, because I do not believe in republics and have Carlyle's unfaith, intensified if possible, in the ballot. Never did I expect to live to say this, and I say it now not only because it is true, but because I know it will make my dear, sweet, amiable, and utterly unreconstructed wife as mad as blazes .-Dr. Bugby, in Richmond Sunday Transcript.
